

First policy under formulation by Supreme Audit Institutions of Latin American and the Caribbean to prevent and fight against corruption

Participants attending the Seminar for the formulation of the regional anti-corruption policy in June 2022

The Office of the Comptroller General of the Republic of Chile, as the Presidency of the Technical Commission for the fight against transnational corruption, is leading the formulation of the first policy on prevention and the fight against corruption for the Organization of Latin American and Caribbean Supreme Audit Institutions (OLACEFS).

A webinar was held in Santiago on 1 March 2023 to discuss the good practices of Supreme Audit Institutions (SAIs) in fighting corruption. 22 SAIs of OLACEFS will meet in April 2023 in Santiago to finalise the policy and pave the way forward for implementation and follow up.

The policy will focus on external and internal control, coordination and cooperation, integral digital transformation, transparency, communication, training and awareness, international standards, citizen participation and impact.

The project is supported by the German Agency for International Cooperation GmbH and the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime.
